

Dear UNISCAPE Members,

I would like to bring to your attention that the final date to express the interest of your University in participating in the European Landscape Masters course is 15 March, 2010. After this date all the participants will be contacted in order to start a second working stage during which the methodology to develop the European Masters course will be established. Up to now the following people and Universities have expressed their interest:

- Thomas Panagopoulos, University of Algarve, Portugal.
- Juan Manuel Palerm. University of Las Palmas de Gran Canaria, Spain.
- Mauro Agnoletti. University of Firenze, Agricultural Faculty, Italy.
- Annalisa Calcagno Maniglio, University of Genova, Italy.
- Sasa Dobricic. University of Nova Gorica, Slovenia.
- Almo Farina. University of Urbino.
- Joaquim Barizinha. Intensive Programme “Changing Landscapes”: Universities of Luisiada Lisboa, Reggio Calabria, LUH Hannover, UPC Barcelona, UMA Málaga, IUAV Venezia, Politecnico di Milano.

The main objective of this initiative is the creation of a shared Masters course with the quality hallmark of UNISCAPE between different Universities of the network which already carry out a landscape Masters or postgraduate course. The main orientation of the European Masters course shall be the protection, management and planning of landscapes, according to the principles of the European Landscape Convention, through urban and spatial planning instruments at an intermediate scale (local and regional).

To express your interest in this initiative or for any further information please contact Ana Trout (alouise.trout.ext@juntadeandalucia.es) at the Centro de Estudios Paisaje y Territorio, Sevilla.
